Index 1976-77

Vol. 12, 1976; Vol. 13, 1977

AUTHOR

This section is arranged alphabetically by author.

ANDREW, GWEN, "Doing concepts: thoughts toward resolution of the continuum delimma" (Winter 1976), 3–10.

BAIRD, VIRGINIA (see Swaine).

BAUM, MARTHA, AND BARBARA B. JAMESON, "Trends in higher education and community placements" (Winter 1976), 11–19.

BLOKSBERG, LEONARD M., AND LOUIS LOWY, "Toward integrative learning and teaching in social work: an analytic framework" (Spring 1977), 3–10.

BLOOM, MARTIN, "Analysis of the research on educating social work students" (Fall 1976), 3–10.

BOEHM, WERNER W., "Social work education: issues and problems in light of recent developments" (Winter 1976), 20–27.

BOYNTON, GERALD (see Foeckler).

BRIGHAM, THOMAS M., "Liberation in social work education: applications from Paulo Freire" (Fall 1977), 5–11.

BRENNER, MELVIN N. (see Koch).

BROWN, LEONARD N., DANIEL KATZ, AND THEODORE WALDEN, "Student-centered teaching: the analog to client-centered practice" (Fall 1976), 11–17.

BROWN, PATRICIA A., "Racial social work" (Winter 1976), 28–35.

BRYANT, WYNETTA DEVORE, AND ELFRIEDE G. SCHLESINGER, "The integration of social science and literary materials: an approach to teaching urban family life" (Fall 1977), 12–18.

BURIAN, WILLIAM A., "The laboratory as an element in social work curriculum design" (Winter 1976), 36–43.

BUSH, JAMES A., "The minority administrator: implications for social work education" (Winter 1977), 15–22.

CAMPFENS, HUBERT, AND FRED LOACH, "Political placements in social work education: the United States and Canada" (Spring 1977), 11–17.

CLEARFIELD, SIDNEY M., "Professional self-image of the social worker: implications for social work education" (Winter 1977), 23–30.

COHEN, JEROME, "Selected constraints in the relationship between social work education and practice" (Winter 1977), 3–7.

CONSTABLE, ROBERT T., "A frame of reference for teaching the dynamics of social welfare systems" (Winter 1977), 31–36.

——"A study of admissions policies in undergraduate education" (Fall 1977), 19–24.

CORMICAN, ELIN J., AND JOHN D. CORMICAN, "The necessity of linguistic sophistication for social workers" (Spring 1977), 18–21.

CORMICAN, JOHN D. (see Cormican, Elin J.).

COWGER, CHARLES D., "Alternative stances on the relationship of social work to society" (Fall 1977), 25–29.

CRAMER, MARGERYFAY, "Fieldwork preparation for entrance into mental retardation practice" (Winter 1977), 37–43.

CRYNS, ARTHUR G., "Social work education and student ideology: a multivariate study of professional socialization" (Winter 1977), 44–51.

DEATON, ROBERT L. (see Horejsi).

DEDMON, RACHEL (see Goldstein).

DOWNING, WILLARD E., "Social work creativity within the system" (Fall 1976), 18–21.

DUEHN, WAYNE D., AND NAZNEEN SADA MAYADAS, "Entrance and exit requirements of professional social work education" (Spring 1977), 22–29.

EADES, JOE C., "Starting where the student is: an experiment in accelerated graduate social work education" (Fall 1976), 22–28.

EFTHIM, ALEX, "Serving the U.S. work force: a new constituency for schools of social work" (Fall 1976), 29–36.

FALCK, HANS S., "Interdisciplinary education and implications for social work practice" (Spring 1977), 30–37.

FAURI, DAVID P., "Social work education for leadership roles in state government" (Winter 1976), 44–49.

FISCHER, JOEL (see Kirk).

FLYNN, MARILYN L., "Computer-based instruction in social policy: a one-year trial" (Winter 1977), 52–59.

FOECKLER, MERLE M., AND GERALD BOYNTON, "Creative adult learning-teaching: who's the engineer of this train?" (Fall 1976), 37–43.

FREY, LOUISE (see Shatz).

GALPER, JEFFRY, "Introduction of radical theory and practice in social work education: social policy" (Spring 1976), 3–9.

GARBER, DAVID L., AND DONALD E. O'BRIEN, "Operationalization of theory in the training of paraprofessionals" (Winter 1977), 60–67.

GOCHROS, HARVEY (see Lister, Larry).

GOLDSTEIN, HARRIS K., AND RACHEL DEDMON, "A computer-assisted analysis of input, process, and output of a social work educational program" (Spring 1976), 17–20.

GORDON, WILLIAM E. (see Schutz).

GOULD, KETAYUN H., AND BOK-LIM C. KIM, "Salary inequities between men and women in schools of social work: myth or reality?" (Winter 1976), 50–55.

GRIFFITHS, KENNETH A., "Support systems for educationally disadvantaged students and assuring practitioner competence" (Spring 1977), 38–43.

GRINNELL, RICHARD M., JR., AND NANCY S. KYTE, "Measuring faculty competence: a model" (Fall 1976), 44–50.

———"A model for bridging the gap between undergraduate research and practice" (Fall 1977), 30–36.

GROSSMAN, CORAZON (see Koegler).

GULLERUD, ERNEST N., "Planning professional educational programs for ethnic minority students: native American examples" (Winter 1977), 68–75.

HANNA, EDWARD A., AND ELSA A. MARZIALI, "A direct practice concentration: problems in integration" (Spring 1977), 44–51.

HARTFORD, MARGARET E., "The MSW-MPA dual degree program in gerontology: a new model for the preparation of social work administrators" (Fall 1976), 51–58.

HENLEY, H. CARL, JR. (see Pfouts).

HEPWORTH, DEAN H., AND E. GENE SHUMWAY, "Changes in open-mindedness as a result of social work education" (Winter 1976), 56–62.

HOKENSTAD, MERL C., JR., "Higher education and the human service professions: what role for social work?" (Spring 1977), 52–59.

HOREJSI, CHARLES R., "'Homemade' simulations: two examples from the social work classroom" (Winter 1977), 76–82.

HOREJSI, CHARLES R., AND ROBERT L. DEATON, "The cracker-barrel classroom: rural programming for continuing education" (Fall 1977), 37–43.

HUNTER, MARY "SKI," AND DENNIS SALEEBEY, "Spirit and substance: beginnings in the education of radical social workers" (Spring 1977), 60–67.

JAMESON, BARBARA B. (see Baum).

JOHNSON, GLADYS, "Advanced standing in practicum I by examination: one school's experience" (Fall 1976), 59–64.

JUDAH, ELEANOR HANNON, "Acculturation to the social work profession in baccalaureate social work education" (Fall 1976), 65–71.

KADUSHIN, ALFRED, AND GEORGE KELLING, "An innovative program reducing length of training: evaluation procedures and outcome" (Spring 1977), 68–75.

KAGWA, G. WINIFRED, "Utilization of racial content in developing self-awareness" (Spring 1976), 21–27.

KATZ, DANIEL (see Brown, Leonard N.).

KELLING, GEORGE (see Kadushin).

KENDALL, KATHERINE A., "Cross-national review of social work education" (Spring 1977), 76–83.

KIM, BOK-LIM C. (see Gould).

KIRK, STUART A., AND JOEL FISCHER, "Do social workers understand research?" (Winter 1976), 63–70.

KOCH, WILLIAM H., AND MELVIN N. BRENNER, "Continuing education for social service: implications from a study of learners" (Winter 1976), 71–77.

KOEGLER, RONALD R., ENERY REYES WILLIAMSON, AND CORAZON GROSSMAN, "Individualized educational approach to fieldwork in a community mental health center" (Spring 1976), 28–35.

KOERIN, BEVERLY, "Values in social work education: implications for baccalaureate degree programs" (Spring 1977), 84–90.

KOLEVZON, MICHAEL S., "The continuum in social work education: destiny not so manifest" (Winter 1977), 83–89.

KOSBERG, JORDAN I., "A social problems approach to gerontology in social work education" (Winter 1976), 78–84.

KURREN, OSCAR, AND PAUL LISTER, "Social work internship in public housing: an interdisciplinary experience" (Fall 1976), 72–79.

KYTE, NANCY S. (see Grinnell).

LEIGHNINGER, ROBERT D., JR., "Systems theory and social work: a reexamination" (Fall 1977), 44–49.

LICHTENBERG, PHILIP, "Introduction of radical theory and practice in social work education: personality theory" (Spring 1976), 10–16.

LISTER, LARRY, AND HARVEY GOCHROS, "Preparing students for effective social work practice related to death" (Winter 1976), 85–90.

LISTER, PAUL (see Kurren).

LOACH, FRED (see Campfens).

LOEWENSTEIN, SOPHIE F., "Integrating content on feminism and racism into the social work curriculum" (Winter 1976), 91–96.

LOWY, LOUIS (see Bloksberg).

MADISON, BERNICE, "Social welfare in international perspective: review of an undergraduate course" (Winter 1976), 97–104.

MARZIALI, ELSA A. (see Hanna).

MATEK, ORD, "A methodology for teaching human sexuality to social work students" (Fall 1977), 50–55.

MAYADAS, NAZNEEN SADA (see Duehn).

MELD, MURRAY B., "The political salience of education for community organization practice" (Fall 1976), 80–87.

MELTZER, RAE, "School and agency cooperation in using videotape in social work education" (Winter 1977), 90–95.

MONK, ABRAHAM, AND FRED NEWDOM, "The outposting method of community services: a multistaged field experience" (Fall 1976), 88–94.

MUNSON, CARLTON E., "Professional autonomy and social work supervision" (Fall 1976), 95–102.

NAVARRE, RALPH (see Zastrow).

NEWDOM, FRED (see Monk).

O'BRIEN, DONALD E. (see Garber).

PETERSON, C. LESLIE, "The consequation exercise: a tool for teaching behavior modification to social work students" (Winter 1977), 98–103.

PFOUTS, JANE H., AND H. CARL HENLEY, JR., "Admissions roulette: predictive factors for success in practice" (Fall 1977), 56–62.

PLOTNICK, HAROLD L., "Factors affecting student accuracy in predicting client behavior" (Spring 1977), 91–98.

POWERS, PATRICIA, "Social change: Nader style" (Fall 1977), 63–69.

PRICE, HAZEL G., "Achieving a balance between self-directed and required learning" (Winter 1976), 105–112.

RADIN, NORMA, "A follow-up study of social work graduates" (Fall 1976), 103–107.

REID, SUSAN, "Making social work education more responsive to the needs of black students" (Fall 1977), 70–75.

RUSNACK, BETTY, "Planned change: interdisciplinary education for health care" (Winter 1977), 104–111.

SALEEBEY, DENNIS (see Hunter).

SANDERS, DANIEL S., "Developing a graduate social work curriculum with an international-crosscultural perspective" (Fall 1977), 76–83.

SCHATZ, JOSEPH L. (see Schlesinger).

SCHLESINGER, ELFRIEDE G., "Graduate social work education: impact on social change and behavioral science orientation" (Winter 1976), 113–20.

SCHLESINGER, ELFRIEDE G. (see Bryant).

SCHLESINGER, ELFRIEDE G., AND JOSEPH L. SCHATZ, "Competence and social disability: a conceptual framework for HBSE content" (Fall 1977), 84–90.

SCHUTZ, MARGARET L., AND WILLIAM E. GORDON, "Reallocation of educational responsibility among schools, agencies, students, and NASW" (Spring 1977), 99–106.

SCHWARTZ, MARY C. (see Wijnberg).

SEGAL, BRIAN, "Policy science and social policy: implications for the social work curriculum" (Spring 1976), 36–42.

SHATZ, EUNICE, AND LOUISE FREY, "Principles and application of the cooperative model in continuing education" (Fall 1977), 91–98.

SHIMER, ELIOT R., "Social work education in a hostile environment: programs under academic attack" (Spring 1977), 107–113.

SHUMWAY, E. GENE (see Hepworth).

STAR, BARBARA, "The effects of videotape self-image confrontation on helping perceptions" (Spring 1977), 114–19.

SWAINE, RICHARD L., AND VIRGINIA BAIRD, "An existentially based approach to teaching social work practice" (Fall 1977), 99–106.

TREGER, HARVEY, "Social work in the police agency: implications for education and practice" (Spring 1976), 43–50.

TROPMAN, ELMER J., "Agency constraints affecting links between practice and education" (Winter 1977), 8–14.

WALDEN, THEODORE (see Brown, Leonard N.).

WEBER, GWEN K., "Preparing social workers for practice in rural social systems" (Fall 1976), 108–115.

WIJNBERG, MARION H., AND MARY C. SCHWARTZ, "Models of student supervision: the apprentice, growth, and role systems models" (Fall 1977), 107–113.

WILLIAMSON, ENERY REYES (see Koegler).

WITTMAN, FRIEDNER D., AND MILTON WITTMAN, "Architecture and social work: some impressions about educational issues facing both professions" (Spring 1976), 51–58.

WITTMAN, MILTON (see Wittman, Friedner D.).

ZASTROW, CHARLES, AND RALPH NAVARRE, "The nominal group: a new tool for making social work education relevant" (Winter 1977), 112–118

SUBJECT

This section is arranged alphabetically by subject area, and within each area, by paper title.

ADMISSIONS

"Admissions roulette: predictive factors for success in practice" (Fall 1977), 56–62.

"A computer-assisted analysis of input, process, and output of a social work educational program" (Spring 1976), 17–20.

"Entrance and exit requirements of professional social work education" (Spring 1977), 22–29.

"A study of admissions policies in undergraduate education" (Fall 1977), 19–24.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

"Continuing education for social service: implications from a study of learners" (Winter 1976), 71–77.

"The cracker-barrel classroom: rural programming for continuing education" (Fall 1977), 37–43.

"Principles and application of the cooperative model in continuing education" (Fall 1977), 91–98.

CURRICULUM

"Achieving a balance between self-directed and required learning" (Winter 1976), 105–112.

"Advanced standing in practicum I by examination: one school's experience" (Fall 1976), 59–64.

"A computer-assisted analysis of input, process, and output of a social work educational program" (Spring 1976), 17–20.

"Developing a graduate social work curriculum with an international-crosscultural perspective" (Fall 1977), 76–83.

"A direct practice concentration: problems in integration" (Spring 1977), 44–51.

"Doing concepts: thoughts toward resolution of the continuum dilemma" (Winter 1976), 3–10.

"Entrance and exit requirements of professional social work education" (Spring 1977), 22–29.

"Graduate social work education: impact on social change and behavioral science orientation" (Winter 1976), 113–20.

"Integrating content on feminism and racism into the social work curriculum" (Winter 1976), 91–96.

"Introduction of radical theory and practice in social work education: personality theory" (Spring 1976), 10–16.

"Introduction of radical theory and practice in social work education: social policy" (Spring 1976), 3–9.

"The laboratory as an element in social work curriculum design" (Winter 1976), 36–43.

"The MSW-MPA dual degree program in gerontology: a new model for the preparation of social work administrators" (Fall 1976), 51–58.

"The necessity of linguistic sophistication for social workers" (Spring 1977), 18–21.

"Planned change: interdisciplinary education for health care" (Winter 1977), 104–111.

"Policy science and social policy: implications for the social work curriculum" (Spring 1976), 36–42.

"Preparing students for effective social work practice related to death" (Winter 1976), 85–90.

"Racial social work" (Winter 1976), 28–35.

"A social problems approach to gerontology in social work education" (Winter 1976), 78–84.

"Social work education for leadership roles in state government" (Winter 1976), 44–49.

"Spirit and substance: beginnings in the education of radical social workers" (Spring 1977), 60–67.

"Starting where the student is: an experiment in accelerated graduate social work education" (Fall 1976), 22–28.

ETHNIC MINORITIES

"Making social work education more responsive to the needs of black students" (Fall 1977), 70–75.

"The minority administrator: implications for social work education" (Winter 1977), 15–22.

"Planning professional educational programs for ethnic minority students: native American examples" (Winter 1977), 68–75.

"Racial social work" (Winter 1976), 28–35.

FACULTY AND TEACHING

"Competence and social disability: a conceptual framework for HBSE content" (Fall 1977), 84–90.

"Computer-based instruction in social policy: a one-year trial" (Winter 1977), 52–59.

"The consequation exercise: a tool for teaching behavior modification to social work students" (Winter 1977), 96–103.

"Creative adult learning-teaching: who's the engineer of this train?" (Fall 1976), 37–43.

"The effects of videotape self-image confrontation on helping perceptions" (Spring 1977), 114–19.

"An existentially based approach to teaching social work practice" (Fall 1977), 99–106.

"A frame of reference for teaching the dynamics of social welfare systems" (Winter 1977), 31–36.

"'Homemade' simulations: two examples from the social work classroom" (Winter 1977), 76–82.

"The integration of social science and literary materials: an approach to the teaching of urban family life" (Fall 1977), 12–18.

"The laboratory as an element in social work curriculum design" (Winter 1976), 36–43.

"Measuring faculty competence: a model" (Fall 1976), 44–50.

"A methodology for teaching human sexuality to social work students" (Fall 1977), 50–55.

"A model for bridging the gap between undergraduate research and practice" (Fall 1977), 30–36.

"The nominal group: a new tool for making social work education relevant" (Winter 1977), 112–18.

"Operationalization of theory in the training of paraprofessionals" (Winter 1977), 60–67.

"Salary inequities between men and women in schools of social work: myth or reality?" (Winter 1976), 50–55.

"School and agency cooperation in using videotape in social work education" (Winter 1977), 90–95.

"Social change: Nader style" (Fall 1977), 63–69.

"Social work creativity within the system" (Fall 1976), 18–21.

"Student-centered teaching: the analog to client-centered practice" (Fall 1976), 11–17.

"Toward integrative learning and teaching in social work: an analytic framework" (Spring 1977), 3–10.

"Utilization of racial content in developing self-awareness" (Spring 1976), 21–27.

"Values in social work education: implications for baccalaureate degree programs" (Spring 1977), 84–90.

FIELD INSTRUCTION

"Fieldwork preparation for entrance into mental retardation practice" (Winter 1977), 37–43.

"Individualized educational approach to fieldwork in a community mental health center" (Spring 1976), 28–35.

"Models of student supervision: the apprentice, growth, and role systems models" (Fall 1977), 107–113.

"The outposting method of community services: a multistaged field experience" (Fall 1976), 88–94.

"Political placements in social work education: the United States and Canada" (Spring 1977), 11–17.

"Preparing social workers for practice in rural social systems" (Fall 1976), 108–115.

"Serving the U. S. work force: a new constituency for schools of social work" (Fall 1976), 29–36.

"Social work internship in public housing: an interdisciplinary experience" (Fall 1976), 72–79.

"Social work in the police agency: implications for education and practice" (Spring 1976), 43–50.

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

"Cross-national review of social work education" (Spring 1977), 76–83.

"Developing a graduate social work curriculum with an international-crosscultural perspective" (Fall 1977), 76–83.

"Liberation in social work education: applications from Paulo Freire" (Fall 1977), 5–11.

"Political placements in social work education: the United States and Canada" (Spring 1977), 11–17.

"Social welfare in international perspective: review of an undergraduate course" (Winter 1976), 97–104.

SOCIAL WORK EDUCATION

"Acculturation to the social work profession in baccalaureate social work education" (Fall 1976), 65–71.

"Agency constraints affecting links between practice and education" (Winter 1977), 8–14.

"Analysis of the research on educating social work students" (Fall 1976), 3–10.

"Architecture and social work: some impressions about educational issues facing both professions" (Spring 1976), 51–58.

"The continuum in social work education: destiny not so manifest" (Winter 1977), 83–89.

"Graduate social work education: impact on social change and behavioral science orientation" (Winter 1976), 113–20.

"Higher education and the human service professions: what role for social work?" (Spring 1977), 52–59.

"An innovative program reducing length of training: evaluation procedures and outcome" (Spring 1977), 68–75.

"Liberation in social work education: applications from Paulo Freire" (Fall 1977), 5–11.

"A model for bridging the gap between undergraduate research and practice" (Fall 1977), 30–36.

"The nominal group: a new tool for making social work education relevant" (Winter 1977), 112–18.

"The political salience of education for community organization practice" (Fall 1976), 80–87.

"Reallocation of educational responsibility among schools, agencies, students, and NASW" (Spring 1977), 99–106.

"Selected constraints in the relationship between social work education and practice" (Winter 1977), 3–7.

"A social problems approach to gerontology in social work education" (Winter 1976), 78–84.

"Social work education: issues and problems in light of recent developments" (Winter 1976), 20–27.

"Social work education in a hostile environment: programs under academic attack" (Spring 1977), 107–113.

"Social work education for leadership roles in state government" (Winter 1976), 44–49.

"Systems theory and social work: a reexamination" (Fall 1977), 44–49.

"Trends in higher education and community placements" (Winter 1976), 11–19.

"Values in social work education: implications for baccalaureate degree programs" (Spring 1977), 84–90.

SOCIAL WORKERS

"Alternative stances on the relationship of social work to society" (Fall 1977), 25–29.

"Do social workers understand research?" (Winter 1976), 63–70.

"Interdisciplinary education and implications for social work practice" (Spring 1977), 30–37.

"The necessity of linguistic sophistication for social workers" (Spring 1977), 18–21.

"Professional autonomy and social work supervision" (Fall 1976), 95–102.

"Professional self-image of the social worker: implications for social work education" (Winter 1977), 23–30.

STUDENTS

"Changes in open-mindedness as a result of social work education" (Winter 1976), 56–62.

"Factors affecting student accuracy in predicting client behavior" (Spring 1977), 91–98.

"A follow-up study of social work graduates" (Fall 1976), 103–107.

"Making social work education more responsive to the needs of black students" (Fall 1977), 70–75.

"Planning professional educational programs for ethnic minority students: native American examples" (Winter 1977), 68–75.

"Social work education and student ideology: a multivariate study of professional socialization" (Winter 1977), 44–51.

"Support systems for educationally disadvantaged students and assuring practitioner competence" (Spring 1977), 38–43.

BOOK REVIEWS

Book reviews are arranged alphabetically by the name of the reviewer.

BALL, JOHN. Introduction to Social Work, 2nd ed., by Rex A. Skidmore and Milton G. Thackeray (Fall 1977), 115.

BOEHM, WERNER. The Carnegie Commission on Higher Education, by Lewis B. Mayhew (Fall 1976), 118.

BURNS, EVELINE M. Welfare Medicine in America, by Robert Stevens and Rosemary Stevens (Fall 1976), 127.

BUTLER, HARRY. Contemporary Social Work: An Introduction to Social Work and Social Welfare, by Donald Brieland, Lela Costin, Charles R. Atherton et al. (Spring 1977), 122.

COHEN, REBECCA S. The Practice of Clinical Casework, by Gertrude Sackheim (Winter 1976), 125.

COMARDA, RITA. Theories of Social Work with Groups, edited by Robert W. Roberts and Helen Northen (Spring 1977), 126.

DAHLKE, H. OTTO. From Poor Law to Welfare State, by Walter I. Trattner (Fall 1976), 124.

DAILEY, DENNIS M. Uses and Abuses of Social Research in Social Work, by Tony Tripodi (Spring 1976), 62.

DALY, DOROTHY BIRD. The New Human Service Worker: Community College Education and the Social Services, by Edward Allan Brawley (Winter 1977), 119.

FINESTONE, SAMUEL. The Paradox of Helping: Introduction to the Philosophy of Scientific Practice, by Martin Bloom (Winter 1977), 121.

GARBER, RALPH. Medicine and Social Work, edited by Helen Rehr (Winter 1976), 123.

GARVIN, CHARLES, A Design for Social Work Practice, edited by Felice Davidson Perlmutter (Fall 1976), 121.

GIOVANNONI, JEANNE M. Social Policy: An Introduction, by Richard M. Titmuss (Winter 1977), 122.

GUZZETA, CHARLES. Behavior Modification, by Morton L. Arkava (Fall 1976), 117.

HASELKORN, FLORENCE. Social Work in Action: An International Perspective on Population and Family Planning, by Katherine Brownell Oettinger (Winter 1977), 125.

HOLTZMAN, REVA FINE, Supervision in Social Work, by Alfred Kadushin (Fall 1977), 119.

ISENSTADT, PAUL M. Legal Rights of Children, edited by the staff of the Columbia Human Rights Law Review (Fall 1976), 122.

KAMERMAN, SHEILA B. Dimensions of Social Welfare Policy, by Neil Gilbert and Harry Specht (Spring 1976), 60.

LIEBERMAN, FLORENCE. Agencies and Foster Children, by Deborah Shapiro (Spring 1977), 121.

LOWY, LOUIS. Social Services in the United States: Policies and Programs, by Sheila B. Kamerman and Alfred J. Kahn (Fall 1977), 118.

MALUCCIO, ANTHONY N. Child Welfare Services, by Alfred Kadushin (Winter 1976), 121.

MINAHAN, ANNE. Social Work Treatment: Interlocking Theoretic Approaches, edited by Francis J. Turner (Winter 1977), 127.

MOELLER, H. G. Readings in Correctional Casework and Counseling, edited by Edward E. Peoples (Spring 1977), 124.

MONK, ABRAHAM. Social Problems, by Amitai Etzioni (Spring 1977), 125.

PERNELL, RUBY B. Meeting Human Needs—An Overview of Nine Countries, edited by Daniel Thursz and Joseph L. Vigilante (Fall 1977), 116.

———World Guide to Social Work Education, compiled by Patricia J. Stickney and Rosa Perla Resnick (Spring 1976), 63.

PINCUS, ALLEN. Poverty and Social Casework Services, edited by Ben A. Orcutt (Fall 1976), 125.

PINKUS, HELEN Interviewing and Communication in Social Work, edited by Crispin Cross (Winter 1976), 122.

POLEMIS, BERNICE W. Progress on Family Problems, by Dorothy Fahs Beck and Mary Ann Jones (Fall 1976), 126.

PRUGER, ROBERT. Working Papers No. 2—Organizational Structure and Climate, by Joseph A. Olmstead (Winter 1976), 127.

ROTHMAN, JACK. Community Work: Theory and Practice, edited by Philip Evens (Fall 1976), 120.

RYAN, ROBERT M. Social Service Delivery: A Structural Approach to Social Work Practice, by Ruth R. Middleman and Gale Goldberg (Winter 1977), 124.

SIMON, BERNECE K. Process of Casework, by Jean Nursten (Winter 1976), 126.

YOUNG, ALMA T. Chronic Illness in Children: Its Impact on Child and Family, by Georgia Travis (Spring 1976), 59.